

7 December 2010

Excavation reveals possible human remains

While undertaking excavations for upgrading of the Shoalhaven Heads sewage treatment plant remains believed to be human were discovered. Members from the Jerrinja Local Aboriginal Land Council were on site monitoring excavation activities at the time. In accordance with the required protocols, excavation activities were ceased immediately and notification was given to Police and the Department of Environment, Climate Change and Water. Council is awaiting further advice from the relevant authorities.

CONTACT: Shoalhaven Water Director Carmel Krogh (02) 4429 3222