Disability is everyone's business

Shoalhaven City Council has launched its Disability Inclusion Action Plan 2017-2021 highlighting Council's commitment to building an inclusive community.

The launch of the plan allowed Councillors and town planners to experience accessing the streets of Nowra through the eyes of a person living with a disability. The group participated in a street walk through the CBD using disability aids to experience first-hand accessibility issues in gaining access to shops and businesses.

The plan was developed in consultation with people living with disability and their supporters and carers as well as service providers. Read more here

Recycling Myths

Recently the ABC program, Four Corners investigated the important topic of recycling and where it ends up.

Mayor Cllr Amanda Findley said, "Shoalhaven City Council strongly condemns the unscrupulous waste processing practices exposed in the Four Corners program."

"The claims and exposés made in the Four Corners program are simply not applicable in any way to Shoalhaven City Council's Waste Services practices."

Approximately 95% of our yellow bin material is sorted and sent for recycling by local Bomaderry recycler, Shoalhaven Recycling. The remaining 5% consisting of contamination, such as foodstuffs, nappies and other non-recyclables, is sent to landfill."
