Council is seeking feedback on the positive and negative effects of dredging at Sussex Inlet and Lake Conjola. Council undertook dredging works between March and September 2016.

The aim of the dredging was to improve safety and navigation within the channel at both estuaries. The sand from the dredging was used at both locations to reduce shoreline erosion and improve amenity. Learn more and have your say here.

Using technology to bring generations together

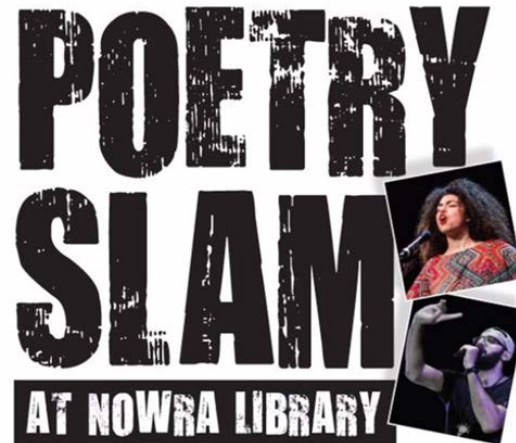

An intergenerational technology troubleshooting project has linked teenagers from Nowra High School with seniors in the Shoalhaven.

The "Gen Connect" program is a facilitated workshop held weekly on Thursdays from 2pm-3pm during the school term at Nowra Library. The workshop encourages seniors to bring in their smart phones, tablets and laptops and link with a student to assist them in discovering how to use the technology or help with specific issues that they are encountering with their devices.

Sarah Taylor, Manager of Shoalhaven Libraries said, "We have loved running the GenConnect program and have really seen the positive impact that the program has had on the seniors who have attended."

All the participants have stated that the program was very helpful in not only helping them support and solve their technology problems but also in gaining confidence with technology. The students were proud to be associated with the project and enjoyed that they could represent their school to help build relationships across generations.

Don't miss this amazing opportunity for Shoalhaven's local performing writers, poets and storytellers to develop skills, build confidence and share ideas as well as having a whole lot of fun.

By taking part in the heat, you may be chosen to battle it out in the National Final on October 15th.

Event hosts and mentors will be two past Poetry Slam Champions, Arielle Cottingham and Zohab Kahn.
