8. Dispute Resolution

If a dispute arises between Shoalhaven City Council and the Company in relation to any matter arising out of this Agreement, the parties agree to enter into negotiations in good faith to try to resolve the dispute. Either party may initiate the negotiations by advising the other party in writing.

The party who initiates the resolution procedures must name its representative in the negotiations when giving written advice to the other party. The other party must then reply in writing within 5 working days to the initiating party naming its representative in the negotiations. Each representative must have authority from the party he or she is representing to settle the dispute. Within 5 working days of both parties having been advised of the other party's representative, the representatives must enter into open and frank discussions to try to resolve the dispute. The commencement of this discussion is deemed to be the negotiations being initiated.

If the dispute has not been settled within 20 working days from the date that negotiations were initiated, the parties will try to settle the dispute by mediation before resorting to arbitration. Either party may initiate mediation by giving 5 working days written notice to the other party. Either party may commence the arbitration by giving written notice to the other stating the subject matter and details of the dispute and that party's desire to have the dispute referred to arbitration. The arbitration shall be conducted by one arbitrator agreed by the parties. Failing agreement on an arbitrator, the arbitrator shall be appointed by the President of the Law Society. The decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding on the parties and the costs of the arbitrator shall (subject to any award by the arbitrator) be borne equally by the parties.

During the resolution of any dispute, the parties shall continue to perform their obligations under the agreement as far as possible as if no dispute had arisen, pending final settlement of the dispute.

Nothing in this clause shall preclude either party from taking immediate steps to seek equitable relief before a court of Australia.

9. Confidentiality

- Shoalhaven City Council and the Company agree that each party shall:-
- Not use, disclose, reproduce or otherwise make available, proprietary information (including firewall, network or host configurations) provided by the other party to any person, firm or enterprise (other than each party's employees or agents who have a need to know such information for the purposes of the Agreement), unless specifically authorised in writing to do so by the other party.
- Exercise all due care and diligence and take all reasonable precautions to prevent any unauthorised use or any proprietary information. Such precautions shall at least be as careful as the recipient for its own confidential information.

Shoalhaven City Council will indemnify and keep the Company indemnified against all actions, proceedings, losses, liabilities, damages, claims, demands, costs and expenses (including all legal costs and expenses on a solicitor and own Company basis) (collectively called "Action") suffered or incurred by the Company to the extent such arises out of, or in connection with, any claim that the Company's authorised use of the Services or any produce of the Services, constitutes a breach of an existing patent, copyright, trade secret or other proprietary right provided that:-

- a) Company, at the request of Shoalhaven City Council, affords all reasonable assistance to Shoalhaven City Council in defending or settling the Action and makes its employees available to give statements, advice and evidence as Shoalhaven City Council may reasonably request, subject to Company being reimbursed for all reasonable costs and expenses occasioned by Company's co-operation in such defences.

- c) Shoalhaven City Council having the sole control of the conduct of any Action and all negotiations for its settlement or compromise;

Either party may terminate this Agreement by notice in writing if the other party materially breaches this Agreement and does not remedy the default or put all reasonable steps in place to prevent the default from recurring, within 30 days after receiving notice of default from the terminating party. If a breach is alleged, termination may not occur unless the parties have used all practicable steps and the dispute resolution procedure through to conclusion of mediation at least.

The Company may terminate the Agreement

- If the service is no longer required the Company may terminate the Agreement by giving thirty (30) days notice.

12. Force Majeure

If either party is unable to perform its obligations under this agreement because of any Force Majeure event, the party unable to perform shall promptly give written notice to the other party. The "disadvantaged party" may, at its option, so long as such inability to perform continues;

- a) Obtain such performance at its own expense from other sources, and/or
- b) Suspend the application of this Agreement including any payment or performance obligations relating to such Force Majeure period.

Neither party shall be liable to the other for damages to other claims resulting from a Force Majeure event or related lack of performance.

An event that would or could otherwise constitute a Force Majeure event for the purposes of this Agreement, is not a Force Majeure event which can be relied on by a party to the extent that:

- a) That event is constituted by the insolvency of either party or a sub-contractor, or lack of funds for any other reason; or
- b) The impact or the event itself could have been prevented or mitigated by steps which were reasonable taking into account the obligation to be met,
- c) That event is constituted by industrial labour or personnel dispute involving Shoalhaven City Council, its sub-contractors or their respective employees.

If the impact of the Force Majeure continues for more than 90 days without substantial performance of this Agreement being able to resume, either party may terminate this Agreement by giving 7 days written notice to the other.

13. Limitation of Liability

Under no circumstances shall either party, their employees, or agents be liable to the other in contract, tort (including negligence or, to the extent, permitted by law, breach of statutory duty) or otherwise for loss (whether direct or indirect) of profits, business or anticipated savings or for any indirect or consequential loss whatsoever.

In this clause 13 "negligence" (without limiting this term) includes any act resulting wholly or partly from any error of fact, law or judgment.

Each provision of this clause 13 and each protection given to either party by any provision of this clause 13 is to be construed as a separate limitation applying and surviving even if for any reason any of the provisions is held inapplicable in any circumstances.

The provisions of clause 13 shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

14. Delay, Concession, or Waiver

Delay, concession or waiver by either party in enforcing against the other any term or provision of this Agreement shall not prejudice or restrict the rights of that party, nor shall any delay, concession or waiver establish or operate as a waiver or precedent in respect of any subsequent breach of this Agreement.

15. Ownership

Loaned Goods will remain the property of the company that loaned them and must be returned upon request within five working days of the request being issued.

16. Copyright

Ownership in copyright in all programmes, documents and electronic forms supplied to the Company by Shoalhaven City Council shall remain the property of Shoalhaven City Council. The Company may use these programs, documents and electronic forms on the terms and conditions of the licences granted by Shoalhaven City Council. If the copyright is owned by Shoalhaven City Council, the Company has a licence to use, for its internal business purposes while this Agreement remains in force.

17. Software Licences

The Company shall ensure that Shoalhaven City Council staff have the right to use third party and Company software for support purposes if required.

Shoalhaven City Council shall ensure that the Company has the right to use third party and Shoalhaven City Council software for the purposes stated in this Agreement.
