SIX TO MIDNIGHT SUMMER TOUR

Road warriors GRINSPOON are back on the highway this summer, for a non-stop East Coast rock n roll party. The boys will play holiday spots right up and down the NSW coast in support of their sixth studio album Six To Midnight.

The tour kicks off in the bands' spiritual home town of Byron Bay, before winding its way right down the coast to Merimbula (near Eden) in the South, and then shooting back up to Sydney to finish everything up with a bang.

The action kicks off on Boxing Day, and goes through New Years Eve and into the first week of the new year. Be quick, these holiday shows are sure to be popular and will sell fast.
