

14 May 2010

Cancer services directory launch

Shoalhaven City Council will officially launch the Shoalhaven Cancer Services Directory on Monday 17 May.

The launch will see a directory aimed at providing information to all people undergoing treatment, and all families who have a member undergoing treatment.

Shoalhaven City Mayor Councillor Paul Green said supporting a directory to offer hope and help to families and people affected by cancer is part of Council's initiative to help create healthy and active communities..

"Council has supported many health programs with the aim of keeping people in our towns and villages, healthy and active, from the baby health clinics, to the influenza vaccinations and the launch of the Shoalhaven Cancer Services Directory," Cllr Green said. "This directory will help provide vital information to many people who use the health services at a particularly difficult point in their lives."

The Shoalhaven Cancer Services Directory will be launched at the Shoalhaven City Administration Centre Reception Room in Bridge Road Nowra on Monday 17 May at 4.30pm.

Media opportunity

What: Launch of the Shoalhaven Cancer Services Directory

Where: Shoalhaven City Administration Centre Reception Room, Bridge Road Nowra

When: Monday 17 May 2010 at 4.30pm

For further information on the Services Directory, you can contact the Regional Nurses Coordinator Rural Health Directorate, Shoalhaven Cancer Services, Bill Jansens on (02) 4232 3574

CONTACT: Shoalhaven City Mayor Councillor Paul Green

(02) 4429 3251
0423 881 873