ABOUT SHOALHAVEN HEALTH CO.

Shoalhaven Health Co. (SHC) is Australia's first retail provider of nutritional and therapeutic supplements derived entirely from marine plants. Based in Jervis Bay, our pristine natural surroundings provide the perfect nursery for clean ecological industry and innovative biotechnology.

Located amongst some of the healthiest plant, animal and marine species on the planet, our values embody the health and regenerative nature of the unspoilt environmental sanctuary around us.

SHC are solely focused on seaweed extracts that have supportive applications for a range of health conditions. Leading our range is Fucoïdan – a key protective molecule found in various brown seaweeds, including Wakame. Fucoïdan has long been linked to general health and longevity in other cultures, prompting more than 1,500 credible academic studies to be conducted into its bioactive properties.

Our Fucoïdan extracts are processed from the highest quality organic seaweed with technology that not only yields the highest purity Fucoïdan fractions in the world, but does so completely naturally using water pressure, unadulterated by foreign or artificial solvents and chemicals.

Shoalhaven Health Co. is a vertically integrated FMCG brand, dedicated to nutritional and therapeutic supplements derived entirely from marine plants.
